awamori

Awamori is a rice liquor from the island of Okinawa. Made by the same families for over 500 years, it is the oldest distilled spirit in all of Japan. What makes Awamori unique is the black koji that can only be found in Okinawa.

Awamori, aged in clay pots, is a light, nutty spirit that becomes earthy and complex over time. It is traditionally served on the rocks, or with some water. At Nomica, we proudly feature Awamori in many of our signature cocktails.
